‘Bump it Up’ Walls, Bump Up Achievement

To support students to improve their writing skills, teachers are introducing ‘Bump it Up’ walls to their classrooms.

These displays, as pictured here, provide students with explicit criteria, at different levels of difficulty, against which they can self-assess their own writing and then consider what additional skills they need to develop to BUMP their writing up to a level above.

Alice, Amelie, Max and Brock

To develop a growth mind set in writing, students must embrace the belief that everyone can improve their texts by reflecting on what they are presently doing well and then setting an achievable and focussed improvement goal for themselves. Students, after analysing their own work, can then either edit their original piece of writing, to improve it, or undertake a new text that incorporates the changes they are striving to achieve to bump their writing to the next level of complexity.

‘Bump it Up’ walls are linked to our school’s use of the Brightpath writing assessment tool which provides teachers and students with suggestions of how to improve writing in the persuasive, narrative and informational genres.

The students pictured here from Room 21 had this to say about their class ‘Bump It Up’ Wall.

“By using the ‘Bump It Up’ wall, you can always improve.” – Max C

“The ‘Bump It Up’ wall makes me use full stops and bigger spaces between my words.” – Brock

“Using the ‘Bump It Up’ Wall helps me work out parts of my writing I can work on.” – Amelie C

“The ‘Bump It Up’ wall helps me improve on mistakes.” – Alice.

As a school we are committed to providing students with feedback for improvement and developing their ability to reflect on their own learning.

News Update from John.

Helping you to sort things out after separation.

Relationship Australia Family Dispute Resolution (Mediation)

There are many things to sort out after marriage or a long-term relationship comes to an end. Family Dispute Resolution (mediation) is a way of jointly dealing with all the complex issues including arrangements for children; finances; and property matters. Relationship Australia staff are specialists in facilitating conversations around sensitive issues to assist people to develop their own agreements and avoid the stress and expense involved in going to Court.

How we can help you

FDR is personalised mediation rather than counselling. We listen but we do not take sides. Skilled mediators will assist you to discuss problems and develop solutions that make sense in your situation. They work with individuals, couples and children and are sensitive to culturally and linguistically diverse and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander clients.

Cost

Relationships Australia South Australia services are subsidised by the Australian Government. Fees are determined according to household income and special rates apply for those with concession cards. Relevant information will be requested when accessing our services.

Bookings

Al Pearce is available on Thursdays at the Ardtornish Children's Centre. To book call Relationships Australia's on 8250 6600.

See our Facebook page, drop in anytime or give us a call if you would like to find out more about our activities & sessions. We are always interested to hear thoughts about how we might support and work with you, your young children and family.

Cheers,

John Buckell

Adelaide Zoo Excursion

Rooms 11, 12, 28 and 29

On Tuesday 10th of March, Rooms 11, 12, 28 and 29 went to the Adelaide Zoo. It was a beautiful sunny day spent exploring the Zoo and seeing our favourite animals. We were also lucky enough to take part in a Life Cycles Program at the Zoo Education Centre. We learnt about the life cycle of a Stick Insect, a Frog and a Lizard.

We also had a hands on experience and got to touch the resident Blue Tongue Lizard, Henley!

We had an absolute ball and are so grateful to our parent volunteers for helping out on the day - we couldn't have done it without you.
